Subj: Supplemental Documentation – Bar complaint – Jeffrey Dorrell

To Whom It May Concern,

Please consider the attached supplemental documentation while reviewing the bar complaint that we filed with your office yesterday, October 17th, 2016 against Attorney Jeffrey Dorrell of Hanszen Laporte.

Exhibit "A" – Convicted felon Thomas Retzlaff sent an email to opposing counsel of Jeffrey Dorrell on October 17th, 2016. Retzlaff does this time and time again against anyone who is opposing counsel of his "close and personal friend" Jeffrey Dorrell. The formula is consistent, death threats and extortion attempts. We have dozens of examples; however, I do not want to bombard your office with paperwork. I am simply requesting that the Office of the Chief Disciplinary Counsel open up a formal investigation into our easily verifiable claims. We have any documentation that you may require to substantiate our claims. We can prove that Case after Case in Texas, opposing counsel (and their clients) of Jeffrey Dorrell is ruthlessly stalked and harassed by Thomas Retzlaff. Dorrell is always copied on the emails and faxes sent by Retzlaff and does nothing about it. You would think that any Attorney would have an ethical duty to inform Retzlaff to stop harassing opposing counsel or, once death threats are made, report Retzlaff to the proper authorities, however Dorrell has never done either. Their documented track record speaks for itself.

Furthermore, as our bar complaint submitted on October 17th, 2016 clearly shows, Attorney Jeffrey Dorrell and Thomas Retzlaff work in tandem and unfortunately for their countless victims, have been very successful. The evidence is overwhelming and self-explanatory.

Thank you for your time and consideration. If you require additional information, please feel free to contact me at james@bullyville.com

Morgan,

In case things are not clear to you, or that dimwitted Judge from this morning, attached is an Emergency Motion for a Stay that was just filed in the Court of Appeals. All your bullshit in the trial court has come to an end.

By the way, you are a lying motherfucker when you were asked about the status of your contempt motion and you claimed to the judge this morning, "I don't know where Tom Retzlaff lives so I can't serve him with the contempt motion." You got those GoDaddy papers, right? So you can see what my motherfucking address is, right?

So come get me, bitch!

Just do not send Phillip Klein to do it. Or did you think that I was joking when I told you - and the whole world - that I would kill Klein on sight, without hesitation, without remorse, should I find him anywhere near my residence, my business, or the residences/businesses of any of my family members what with all his threats he has made to me and to others in the past?

While it was a real cute move putting the address of my ex-wife down in your motion for contempt by trying to claim it was my address, have you not realized by now that I simply cannot be intimidated by Klein's usual bullying tactics? My ex-wife is far tougher than that, dipshit. After all, she has had to deal with me for 40 years!! (lol)

Back in the day (before I supposedly "joined" the Aryan Brotherhood and started living a life of crime), when I used to be a uniformed patrolman I would always carry with me what was commonly known as a "throw down" pistol. That way, in case I ever shot anyone that I should not have, I toss out my throwdown and I'd be covered. When I became a CID Agent and went into plain clothes that habit stayed with me.

That was awhile ago. But nowadays, what with cell phones and such, cops get to shoot people just because they "think" they have a gun in their hands or for making a furtive movement and stuff like that, right?

Additionally, Arizona has even better Stand Your Ground laws than Texas does! So a person can shoot Phillip Klein (or one of his employees) dead and justifiably claim that (1) I thought the dude had a gun, and (2) I was just Standing My Ground.

So my point being - You got the GoDaddy papers, thus all you dumb asses know where I live at - what's holding you punks up?

Not even discussing exactly how a Texas court could enforce such a thing across state lines, but why haven't you served me?

And Wenzel, FYI - I am coming after you in the court of appeals for these anti-SLAPP sanctions, too. Don't think that I won't be. While I understand that your client has not been paying you at all recently, that is your tough shit. Go ask the bitch for some money as you're going to need it. You decided to ride on Morgan's coat tails, you can suffer the consequences just like he will.

Lastly, Morgan that was a pretty shifty move putting your daughter's sex abuse stuff all out there in the public record like that. Weren't those documents all supposed to be sealed? I wonder how soon it will be till all that shit and her personal information gets posted all over the internet??

Only one person here is associated with assholes who run websites and who like to post shit on the internet, and it ain't me.

Wenzel, in case you did not know it, but Morgan's client James McGibney runs a revenge pornography / sexual blackmail website. He owns approximately 2,500 websites in the names of different people with whom he gets into disputes with, such as websites in the names of my ex-wife, my two children, my family members, and shit like that. And, of course, we all know that Klein like to play his own internet games, too, right?

McGibney and his nigger buddies posted pics and videos of my daughter all over the internet.

So when Anne's personal shit starts to pop up all over the internet Morgan can just thank his former client McGibney - what with McGibney having gotten seriously fucked over by Morgan on account of that SLAPP suit he filed for McGibney in Fort Worth, its not like James McGibney does not have over 500,000 reasons to want to get some easy revenge on Morgan, eh?

I do not have to be the infamous and mysterious "James Smith" to make such a prediction as that, do I?

So Wenzel, I strongly suggest you go to your client and ask for a pile of money because shit here is about to get real. Either that or you and Landess had better figure out a way to get out of this case ASAP. Having gone through my own "difficulties" with a bitchy ex-wife, I can tell you for personal experience that a very sincere apology and an offer of some compensation can go a long way to smoothing things over. So if you guys can get out of this case, do so now because soon it will be too late.

The Aryan Brotherhood pays me by the hour. So I personally don't give shit if you guys stay or go as I get paid the same regardless as to how many defendants I body slam in a single day.

You assholes all thought I was joking. You thought filing a SLAPP suit against me in Fort Worth was funny. You thought that filing a SLAPP suit against me in federal court in Northern California was funny. You thought that filing yet another SLAPP suit in state court in San Jose was funny. And how'd that shit all turn out, bitch? Well we are going to see how funny this shit gets in the coming weeks, won't we?
